It's Happening In SPRINGVILLE

By Carolyn J. Giddings

March 5th, Springville voters will be going to the polls to approve or disapprove the current plans for the rehabilitation of Springville Hospital into an apartment complex for the active elderly. Unfortunately, the ballots have come out with what appears to be poor wording and many of the citizenry are very upset about it. The ballots make it appear that the planned housing complex would be low-income not specifically active elderly. Many seem to feel this would be very detrimental to the area and envision a situation akin to the labor camps and hippie communes. The following is a letter written Thursday to Les Tompkins, Springville Chamber of Commerce President, from Robert A. Wills, Executive Director of the Tulare County Housing Authority:

"Dear Mr. Tompkins: The ballots for the March 5, 1974 election for Springville elderly subsidized housing unfortunately has the wording used in projects we have in the cities of Dinuba, Tulare, etc. It is too late to call a different election so I want to make it clear to you that we have planned, are planning, and foresee only housing for the active elderly citizens. This may include a few persons slightly disabled and approaching the 'elderly' age of 62.

"The Authority assures the Springville citizens that only Senior Citizen housing will be developed without going back

JAYCEE AWARDS TO BE GIVEN AT BANQUET TONIGHT

PORTERVILLE — Awards honoring young men of the community will be presented tonight, Thursday, at annual Bosses Night banquet of Porterville Jaycees at Don's Hillside restaurant; speaker will be Clare Slaughter, coach of the state champion Fresno City college football team and a former "local boy."

Awards will go to Boss of the Year, Outstanding Young Educator, Outstanding Young Farmer and for Distinguished service.

Presiding at the meeting will be Gary Wallace, Jaycee president; master of ceremonies will be Doug Webb, a Jaycee past president.

Dinner will be served at 8 p.m.; a cocktail hour is set for 7 p.m.

SWIMMING POOLS AT HIGH SCHOOLS?

Porterville high school trustees are considering plans for construction of swimming pools on the Monache and Porterville high campuses, with information on the projects now being developed by the school administration. A resolution calling for a June tax election that would include the pools will be considered at the March 11 meeting of the high school district board.

FIRST PIONEER DITCH PIPING CONTRACT LET

PORTERVILLE — A $146,000 contract for construction of 18,720 feet of pipeline in the Pioneer Water company system was finally approved Tuesday afternoon and work is expected to get underway within the next few days.

This first section of a construction project that will eventually put the entire Pioneer ditch system into pipeline involves the Patterson branch which extends from headgates in the vicinity of Crestview and Putnam on the east edge of the city of Porterville, generally around the slope of foothill citrus plantings, then on north through the Hawkins and Gauger orchards, serving also the new 400-acre Golden Lemon planting on the east side of the first foothill ridge east of Porterville.

The line will continue back down Plano road to Henderson, then west on Henderson to Fourth street where it will tie in with an already-installed Pioneer pipeline.

Low bid on the project was submitted by Reed Trenching Inc. of Modesto; cast-in-place, continuous concrete line will be utilized, with pre-cast pipe under streets and roads.

Necessary outlets will be installed - all of which will be metered - along with structures necessary for control of water flow. It is expected the project can be completed by the end of March.

Second phase of the total project will probably be between Reid road and the Pioneer spill near the north end of the system - a distance of 7,590 feet. If weather is suitable, it is likely that the contractor will move onto this section immediately after completing the Patterson section, however no contract on this section has been let at present.

Initial construction involves 36 inch and 30 inch pipe; completion of the entire $470,000 project is planned by June of 1975.

Financing is through a federal, interest-free loan, repayable over 30 years; supervision and administration is through the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation; local engineer on the job is R.L. Schafer.

Final approval of the first construction contract came during an all-afternoon meeting in Porterville between Bureau of Reclamation officials, the contractor, Schafer, and directors of the Pioneer Water company.

President of the Pioneer board is R.J. Owen; other directors are: Robert Gauger, Chester Van Lente, John Bulk, and Bob Hawkins.

Initial construction is in the area where the greatest number of Pioneer water customers are located. The section of ditch that runs through the City of Porterville will, on a priority basis, probably be the last completed.

Tule River Floodway Hearing At Springville Next Thursday

SPRINGVILLE — Hearing that involves plans to preserve the flood-carrying capacity of the Tule river from Success lake upstream will be conducted by the State Reclamation board in the Springville Veterans' building next Thursday afternoon, March 7, at 2 p.m. Maps of the proposed project can now be inspected at the Memorial building.

The hearing - the second conducted by the state board in Springville - is expected to generate some opposition. A similar hearing last week at Three Rivers concerning the Kaweah river floodway brought "vehement objection" from some of the property owners in that area.

Hearing at Springville will involve the stretch of the middle fork of the Tule 10.9 miles upstream from Success lake; the south fork, 4.4 miles and the north fork, 3.9 miles.

The designated floodway plan will establish the minimum area of the river channel, and adjacent floodplain, reasonably required to pass what is referred to as the design flood; the area where structures might be damaged by flood waters if not properly located and constructed.

Designated also will be areas where fills and other construction might impede the free-flow of water and thereby cause the water surface to rise; and the area where an approved application from the Reclamation board is required for proposed construction, fills, and excavation.

First hearing on the designated Tule river floodway plan was held in Springville in December of 1972 when it was explained that objective is to keep channels open so that maximum river flow, such as the "100-year flood" of 1966, can be handled by the channels.

The State Reclamation board operates under state law that dates back to 1911; its seven members are appointed by the governor; its authority covers the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers and all their tributaries, which has been interpreted to include all river channels from the Tehachapi mountains through the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys.

A "local" member of the board is Stanley Barnes, civil engineer of Corcoran.

CONSOLIDATION OF DISTRICTS TO BE AIRED

VISALIA — Consolidation of Tulare County Resource Conservation districts, formerly known as Soil Conservation districts, is on the March agenda of the Tulare County Local Agency Formation commission, meeting in the county courthouse at Visalia.

The five existing districts being considered for consolidation are: El Mirador, Stone Corral, Terra Bella, Three Rivers, and Tule River.

Further information can be obtained from Sylvia Hallows, executive secretary of the commission, 732-5511, Ext. 231.

THE SHOW IS ON THE ROAD

FIRST AD in the 1974 program book for the Porterville fair has been purchased by Mike Garcia, left, of Cassidy's Shoes, with Charles Edward Howell, right, making the sale. Howell is chairman of a Porterville Jaycee committee that is handling advertising sale for the fair board; another Jaycee committee is in charge of exhibit space sale. The Jaycee organization is paid a commission on sales, with money raised used for local community projects.

Statement Concerning Tule Hearing From The State Reclamation Board

The Reclamation Board will conduct a second public hearing regarding the Tule River Designated Floodway on March 7, 1974 in the Veterans Memorial Building, 35978 Highway 190, Springville, California. The hearing will begin at 2 p.m.

The designated floodway is the channel area of the stream and that portion of the adjoining floodplain required to provide for passage of the one percent event (100-year flood). The purpose of this hearing is to receive comments from local public entities and landowners concerning the location of the boundary lines of the designated floodway for that portion of the Middle Fork of the Tule River between Success Lake and 10.9 miles upstream and along the north fork for 3.9 miles and along the south fork for 4.4 miles upstream from the Middle Fork.

The designated floodway will provide a tool to the residents living along the river so that they may know the limit to which they may construct fills and other developments on their property. The designated floodway will also aid The Reclamation Board and local authorities in controlling encroachments in the floodway of the Tule River. General statements to further define the purpose and the requirements of the designated floodway are the following:

1. The designated floodway is a plan showing the minimum floodway limits and not a proposal to construct levees or other flood control works.
2. The designated floodway plan is shown on aerial photographs by a line drawn on each side of the Tule River. The space between these lines is the area needed to pass the design floodflow of the river.
3. If the designated floodway is adopted, an approved permit from The Reclamation Board will be required for any development between the two lines shown on the aerial photography maps.

The hearing set for March 7, 1974 is the second public hearing. An initiation meeting regarding this designated floodway was held in the Veterans Memorial Building on December 19, 1972 at 7:30 p.m.

Maps have been on display in the Veterans Memorial Building since February 25, 1974. Interested parties are requested to examine these maps with regard to their property and to for the approval of the Springville citizens.

"The Citizens of Springville and the Authority staff have tried to keep all issues clear. The ballot's 'wording' however, will still allow us to have only elderly housing.

"I will appreciate it if you can help us overcome any misunderstandings held by the Springville voters."

Sincerely,
Robert A. Wills

Mr. Wills has clearly assumed responsibility for the wording - this was not a 'trick' by the Board of Supervisors and enough of Mr. Wills' letters have already been distributed in the Springville area to make him very uncomfortable should anyone want to choke him with them. Sometimes it is so much easier for us to jump to conclusions and wave angry fists than it is to accept a simple mistake. Springville voters will be going to the polls knowing that the wording is more permissive than actually is the case - and with written promise ahead of time that the Housing Authority has no plans for anything other than the elderly housing they describe.

Les Tompkins was called to Ohio suddenly to the bedside of his very ill mother. Les returned late Saturday night and his mother has rallied and was considerably improved when he left Ohio.

Overall, the census tallied 5,605,000 ducks which was an increase of 35 percent over the 20-year average for these surveys. As usual, pintails were the most numerous with 3,341,000 tallied, accounting for most of the increase in duck numbers.

DR. McDONALD HEADS COUNTY HUMANE SOCIETY

VISALIA — Dr. I.C. McDonald was elected president at the 19th Annual Membership Meeting of the Tulare County Humane Society. A Visalia Veterinarian since 1951, he has been active in the Society since 1953; he succeeds E.L. Mathy of Three Rivers.

Elected to serve with McDonald is Dr. M.C. Burns, vice-president and Joe F. Adair, treasurer. Both men reside in Tulare.

Elected to the Board of Directors were Sherman Rogers for a fifth term and Gereth Houk, Jr. of Visalia for his third term.

Reports given at the annual meeting included one from the Humane Education program which is in its 8th year. During 1973, Mrs. Alice Coz presented ideas on the care and welfare of pets to 601 classes reaching 15,641 elementary school children.

This continuing education, it was stated, will eventually benefit both animals and man as the need is reflected in the handling of 12,941 dogs, 6,935 cats and 4,472 large animals during 1973.

In addition Humane Society efforts spread to 2,787 dogs that were neglected in their own homes; 29 dogs were rescued from the Friant-Kern Canal in a five week period; and 1,445 sick or injured animals were picked up and given care.

Desert table grape varieties are beginning to bud.

OUR TOWN

BY RUTH LOYD

It's all MARGARET BENNETT's fault. My house is a mess. Dusting and things just haven't been done. I dropped in at the BENNETTS' new travel agency, and we got to talking about books. MARGARET asked me if I had read The Winds of War, by Herman Wouk. I hadn't, and MARGARET said I should. Sooooo, JUDY GIBSON ordered it for me, and I haven't done much housework since. I'm finding out things, about the second world war, I didn't know. It is interesting to try to remember what I was doing when certain momentous things were happening in our world, and how things I had thought were true, just weren't. Then on T.V., every week, there is this program with pictures and documentaries of the war. Our world changed so much at that time, and I can remember. That's why MARGARET messed up my housework. I don't like to dust anyway.

We were in Berlin last year, and went into the east section. That's a frightening experience. Going to the Russian memorial, and standing with hundreds of Russian soldiers looking at statues of their heroes, and wondering what the soldiers were thinking. The soldiers all looked so young, and their uniforms looked too big for them. They tried to communicate with us, but our Russian wasn't too good, and we ended up just smiling at each other. They had a lovely time looking at the young American girls with their mini skirts. Their hats were too large, and came down over their eyes and ears, and gave them a sinister appearance. I guess they thought I was a little sinister also. I don't know why, I just wanted to get back to safe Checkpoint Charlie, and have my passport back. It was good for me to see that side of the world. I am apt to be so secure in OUR LITTLE TOWN in California. Things aren't all that secure.

It's about that time of year. High School Seniors are thinking of their Senior Party. It's a far cry from the time my children were in school, and the parents were supposed to put on the party. At two different times, we decorated the Old Green Mill and the Elk's club, and tried to make everyone happy, which was impossible. There were more parents than students. In spite of all the bother, the kids preferred to drag Main, and do their own thing. This Disneyland thing sounds great to me. If they can get the busses, gas and money for each student. They leave here about five in the evening, and leave at about five in the morning from there. Disneyland has the party down to a fine point. Once you are in Disneyland everything is on the house, except the food. They can please everyone with the bands. It sounds like fun to me, as long as I don't have to go. I've done my bit, and the thought of an all night party at Disneyland makes my eyes cross. There is some compensation to getting old.

Happiness is remembering our children when they were in school.

TOURS CRUISESNoted Harpist Performs Tonight;
1974-75 Artists To Be Announced

PORTERVILLE — Community Concert association members are looking toward their concert tonight for several reasons: As 1973/74 season ticket holders, they will hear Mildred Dilling, noted harpist, give a concert, and some time during the evening, Association President Bud Wheeler will announce three of the attractions chosen by the board of directors for the 1974-75 season. A fourth concert attraction for the upcoming season will be announced later.

Membership renewals will be offered tonight to those who wish to renew their season tickets at that time. The renewal campaign officially opens March 4 when volunteers will call on all members who do not renew on February 28.

Association members will also be asked to mark their calendars for the last concert of the season, April 2, slated as the annual "bonus" event. This concert, a performance of Rossini's opera The Barber of Seville, will admit all newly signed-up members free of charge.

The actual new member campaign opens March 18, the same date on which the renewal drive closes. March 18 is also the date for the annual kick-off dinner for campaign workers. Chaired by PCCA Membership Chairman Virginia (Mrs. Howard) Baker, the event is open only to campaign workers and association officials.

The new-member campaign will close March 23, 1974.

SCHOLARSHIPS
AT COLLEGE FOR FRESHMEN

PORTERVILLE — Scholarships for incoming freshmen at Porterville college in the areas of music, journalism, drama, and athletics will be provided through funds appropriated by the governance board of the Associated Student body.

Tom Buckles, student president of the governance board, said the intent of the scholarships is to attract students to the college who have demonstrated outstanding ability in the areas.

Selection of the scholarship winners will be made by the music, journalism, drama, and athletic departments at the college, Buckles said.

In addition, the governance board appropriated $100 toward an all-college scholastic award which is made annually to a student solely on the basis of scholarship.
